ST. CLAIR STREET BRIDGE.

The City and County Liable to Indictment for Non-Compliance With Orders to Raise the Bridge.

About two years ago the Secretary of War notified the city and county authorities that they must raise the St. Clair street bridge across the Kentucky river a sufficient height to prevent it from remaining an obstruction to navigation during high stages of water.

The local officials contended that the United States Government, in accepting the river from the State, could not regulate a bridge which had been placed there many years before under a State charter, especially if in the exercise of that power the Government required an act which would destroy the value of the property to be regulated. The bridge, it is said, was too old to be raised and the order, therefore, could only be complied with by the construction of a new bridge, for which the city and county should have an appropriation by an act of Congress for at least the value of the present bridge.

A meeting of the citizens to take action in the matter was held and a petition reciting the facts in the case and requesting Congress to appropriate a sum equal to the value of the bridge was formulated and sent to Washington City. In the meanwhile engineers from Washington came to the city and took the matter under advisement and reported that without a doubt the necessity existed for the enforcement of the War Secretary's demands to raise the bridge, and again warning orders were issued to the local authorities to have the work done or expect to suffer the penalty prescribed by law. When District Judge Sage, of Ohio, decided a similar case against the United States and in favor of Muskingum county, Ohio, the citizens took new hope and allowed the order to pass out of mind, to be called up again should the Supreme Court of the United States to which the Ohio case was appealed, reverse the decision of Judge Sage. That case has not yet been decided in the Supreme Court, but the crisis, in a limit of indulgence has been reached in the case of Frankfort, and District Attorney Jolly has been notified by the Secretary of War to proceed in court to enforce the order to raise the St. Clair street bridge. Mr. Jolly is now preparing the papers for filing the indictment against the city and county at the term of the United States court, which will be held in this city Monday week.

It is not a comforting thought for the tax payers of the city and county to know that penalty is a sum not exceeding $5,000 a month, which, if the indictment is found and the Ohio case reversed, will have to be paid as a sum thrown into the river, for the failure to do an act which, without the order of the Secretary of War, has long stared the people in the face as a necessity that they were bound to provide for, sooner or later. The justice of the points in controversy on the part of the city and county is good in theory and it seems ought to be so recognized in Congress by an appropriation asked for, but what is the use of all the law and justice in the country if the coercing power is deaf to all pleadings for time and money? If Congress will not make the appropriation, it is neither consistent nor a wise policy for Frankfort to pursue in stubbornly refusing to remove obstructions to the navigation of the river, for the completion of which great work to the headwaters the citizens are becoming anxious for Congress to hasten, realizing the advantages that will naturally fall to Frankfort. Under the existing condition of things, it is apparent that a new bridge will have to be erected and it would strike an average person that it is to the interest of the tax payers to deal fairly with the owners of steamboats, who while plying the trade to this city and thereby cheapening rates and furnishing a splendid outlet for transportation, should not, by any obstruction placed by the city, be prevented any longer from proceeding further up the river, during the high stages of water, in the effort to maintain a trade for their boats. Then again, setting aside the necessity for a new bridge, there is always a great risk in defying the laws on which the high powers are basing their authority, and that risk, with the facts before them, it is believed the tax payers do not care to assume. Build a new bridge, gentlemen of the city council and county court, and let it be a handsome iron structure that will be an ornament, attesting the taste and public spirit of the city, whose growth and prosperity will receive an impetus from her public improvements in which the county shares the reward.

As a matter of interest at the present time, the following syllabus of the Muskingum county case, as decided by Judge Sage, is published below:

United States
vs.
Rider, et al. County Commissioners,
District Court S. D. Ohio, E. D.
May 14, 1892.

1. Navigable Waters—Bridge—Sufficiency of Notice to Provide "Draw." County Commissioners of M. county Ohio were notified by the Secretary of War, July 25, 1891, to provide a State bridge over the M. river with a "draw" for the passage of boats, on or before September 30, 1891. The commissioners had no funds with which to provide the "draw," could make no levy for that purpose until March or June, 1891, which levy would not be collectable in full before December 20 of the year following. The Commissioners had applied to the legislature for the necessary funds without success and had no opportunity to submit the question of the necessary expenditure, which exceeded $10,000, to a popular vote, as required in case of such excess. Held, that the notice did not give a reasonable time in which to provide the "draw."

2. Same—Powers of Secretary of War—Constitutionality of Act.

Act Cong. August 11, 1898, (26 U. S. St. at Large p. 424, sections 9-10) providing that when the Secretary of War shall have reason to believe that any bridge is an obstruction to free navigation, he shall give notice requiring the bridge to be so altered as to render navigation through or under it easy and unobstructed, and imposing a penalty on the controllers of the bridge for failing to make such provisions is unconstitutional in that it delegates to the Secretary of War powers exclusively vested in Congress. U. S. vs. Keokuk and H. Bridge Co., 45 Fed. Rep. 178, followed.

THE CITY COUNCIL.

Coat of Arms, Souvenir Spoon and Bridge Electric Lights.

The city council met Tuesday night and all the members were present except Mr. Church.

The license committee reported on the grocery license of Ellwanger Bros., who have been paying $40, and Day & Haff, who have been paying $60, and recommended that the rate for both firms be fixed at $50 per year. A motion to adopt the rate recommended was carried.

Mr. Ben Marshall, the person asked that a fair and uniform license rate for selling boots and shoes be fixed by the council and the matter was referred to the license committee.

Mr. Mastin, from the committee to ascertain the cost of lighting the St. Clair street bridge by incandescent lights, made a verbal report and thereupon the gas committee were instructed to make a contract with the company for ten lights at the lowest figures obtainable.

A number of cities in this part of the State, acting upon the suggestion of Mrs. James E. Churchill, of Georgetown, have offered a prize of $50 for the best design for a coat of arms and $50 for the best design for a souvenir spoon, the contest to be made by ladies only, and the designs, after the award has been made by the committee, to be sent to the World's Fair. Mr. Haff, representing the ladies of this city, thought it would be a good idea for Frankfort to make a similar offer and Mr. Darnell then moved that the matter be referred to a committee consisting of Messrs. Haff, Shaw and Collins, with instructions to report to the council. It was adopted.

The matter of the deferred payment of rent for a building belonging to Mr. Jos. Burkhardt, and which the city is using for a school, was referred to the school committee.

The tax books were ordered to be placed in the hands of the City Marshal by January 30th.

A number of new gas lights were ordered erected, one at the colored school, two on Holmes street, one on Shelby street, one at Dunigan & Nickel's mill, three on the Leestown turnpike and two on Arlington Heights.

Mr. Darnell moved to advertise for bids for twenty are lights to light the streets of the whole city, but before action was taken on the motion the council adjourned.

Another Change of Time.

Train No. 4, leaving Paris at 6:30 p. m., connects with trains from Covington, Cynthiana, Mayaville, Carlisle, Millersburg, Winchester, Richmond, &c., arriving at Georgetown 7:10 and Frankfort at 8:03.

All Along the Line

Is heard praise of Dr. Hale's House hold Ointment. Mrs. I. S. Jacob's, of Farmington, Maine, writes that she suffered five years with varicose veins and two running sores on her leg, and was completely cured by its use. D. S. Fillery, Salisbury, Vt., writes: "We cannot live without it; it relieves my sister of asthma at once; it cures a burn or a hurt of any kind almost instantly." Under date of May 30, 1892, R. H. Simpson, Le Roy, N. Y., writes: "I used Hale's Ointment for rheumatism three years ago and have not been troubled since. It is the finest ointment in the world for general use. 25c. and 50c. per box. For sale by P. H. CARPENTER."

Excessive Railroad Charges.
Editor Roundabout:
The dispatches bring us the news that the Governor of South Carolina has signed the bill, and it has become a law, placing all railroads in the State under the absolute control of the Railroad Commissioners, from whose rulings there is no appeal. This question of State control of railroads is fast becoming one of the most vital questions connected with the problem of government. Our legislatures have been very slow to adopt measures that look like confiscation of property, but when corporations, by absorbing other lines and building branches, gain control over large sections of country and have under their control large armies of employees who are bound to carry out a policy dictated by one man, it is like an empire built up within a State. If the man who dictates the policy of such a corporation chooses to ignore the laws of our country and operates the business of the corporation for revenue only, regardless of justice and right, is it unnatural that the people should revolt against this rule and call upon the State to call down this unjust dictator from his throne? There are always those who, for different reasons, are ready to defend the actions of such large corporations against charges of injustice, no matter how flagrant the outrage. Is it to be wondered at that when remonstrance against injustice is met with arguments to justify outrageous discrimination, that the people should throw aside remonstrance and assume authority by passing laws to control? Our people in Kentucky are suffering at the hands of railroad corporations. Some of our manufacturers have tried to secure justice by protesting against the discrimination, but it is of no purpose. The corporations are after revenue. If they are compelled to accept business in certain competitive points at less than a profitable rate, they get even by charging enough on the business from the interior to make the aggregate business a profitable one. The natural result of this kind of policy is to make manufacturing at interior points in Kentucky unprofitable. If the article manufactured can not bear high freight rates, we have at Frankfort naturally a good location for manufacturing. Why is it that those who do not prosper as at some other points, and why is it that we do not secure the location of more? Let the people answer this question by requiring them to investigate the matter they will probably find that our manufacturers are not allowed the fruit of their toil, and that the State, in such cases, is going to some foreign country to pay railroad dividends. Is it not time that we should begin to try to take care of ourselves? A bill lately has been introduced in the House of Representatives to enlarge the duties of the Railroad Commissioners by requiring them to inquire into complaints regarding inter-State commerce and prosecute such complaints before the Inter-State Commerce Commission. This is a step in the right direction, but only a step. If the powerful railroad autocrats will not do justice, then such laws be introduced and advocated as will force them to treat us fairly.

A Happy Christmas.

Such it will be at the humble, though honest home of Thornton Glone, an employee of the firm of Miles & Son. "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver" is an old and true saying, and Mr. Glone's fellow laborers at the mill, acted on the suggestion given in those words, and among them made up a purse of several dollars, with which they purchased groceries, fuel, and other necessities of life, and presented them to him. Mr. Glone has been unable to work for several weeks on account of an injury received while moving some barrels, and, having a wife and child to support, he will find it very convenient to accept this gift from his friends, with their best wishes for his speedy recovery.

A son of Mr. M. D. Pusser, a merchant of Gibraltar, N. C., was so badly afflicted with rheumatism for a year or more as to be unable to work or go to school. FRANKFORT, DEC. 24, 1892.

UNITED STATES COURT.

A Large Docket and Many Important Cases.

The next term of the United States Court in this city will begin Monday week. Judge J. W. Barr, of Louisville, will preside and Mr. Wm. Chinn, of this city, occupy the clerk's desk. District Attorney George W. Jolly and Marshal Burnett and the rest of the court officers will come from Louisville with Judge Barr on the day the court is opened.

The docket for this term contains an unusual number of important cases and it is doubtful whether the court, within the customary allowance of seven or eight days, can dispose of more than one half of the cases. In each case there is likely to be a large number of witnesses and these, with the many lawyers who will come to look after their clients' interests both in the United States Court and the Court of Appeals, which will begin its January term that day, together with the collection at the sitting of the county court and the members of the General Assembly who may be present, will give the city an air and bustle of business excitement equaling the metropolis.

The case of most interest on the criminal calendar of the United States Court is that in which the National Exchange Bank officers of Lexington, Wm. Bright, the cashier, and Frank Gilmore, the teller, together with the well-known book maker, W. H. Cheppin, are to be tried on thirteen different indictments against each, the two former for making false entries in the bank books and false reports to the directors, and the last named for aiding and assisting them in the frauds by which Cheppin with others were allowed to overdraw their accounts more than $30,000. This case was first called under indictments a year ago and continued from term to term until now, at the coming term. It is said it will be ready for trial.

Frank Steele, of Versailles, will also be tried for an alleged attempt last January to intimidate Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, witnesses in another case against him in which he was acquitted last June.

The case of Jack Moreland, of this county, who was caught with counterfeit silver dollars and the molds in his possession and who has been in jail a year awaiting trial, will be called, as will also the counterfeit cases from Jackson county, Frank James, ex-county surveyor, Dr. Wm. D. Steele, post master, F. R. Davidson, a well-to-do citizen, and E. S. Winkle, all of whom were examined before Commissioner Chinn and placed under bond to answer at this term. All gave bond and were released excepting James, who has been in jail here since his arrest. He claims to be a cousin of the noted Frank James, of Missouri. The officers who made the arrest of these men believe they had effected the capture of the most important members of a large gang of counterfeiters who have been operating extensively in the mountains of Kentucky and Virginia. Steele, to give color to this belief, though out on bond, was re-arrested at East Bernstadt, in Laurel county, Oct. 7, for having in his possession and attempting to pass a one dollar bill which he had raised to ten by pasting counterfeit engraved words "ten" over the "one."

There are three post office robbery cases on the docket, Sam England, of Floyd county, and Wm. Neikirk and Zed Adkins, of Pike county. Hiram Napier, of Leslie county, will be tried for cutting mail bags.

For sending obscene letters in the mail, H. H. Quire, of this county, and Martha Roberts, of Carter county, will be heard in the court.

The following minor offenses of internal revenue violations, which are now on the docket and ready for trial: Doo Holbrook, of Elliott county; Wm. Prater, of Morgan county; Hemmie Baker, of Perry county; John Gentry, of Fayette county; Sol Osborn, of Wolfe county, and Anderson Williams, of this county. A more important revenue case and one which will likely take up much of the time of the court is that of B. F. Risner, a distiller of Salyersville, under indictment at the last term for attacking with a pistol Deputy Collector J. T. Patrick, who, in the discharge of his duty, demanded and was refused permission to inspect the distillery premises. Besides these internal revenue cases, there are likely to be a large number of others who will be indicted and perhaps tried also at this term.

The civil docket, which will be taken up after the disposition of the criminal cases, also contains a good number of important cases. Among them is the case of Robt. M. Foster, of Kansas, vs. James G. Givens and others, of Louisville, of the Pine Mountain Iron and Coal Company, for 50,000 acres of land in Bell county, claimed by Foster under a prior title known as the Morehouse patent; the same vs. New York and Kentucky Land Company, Gen. T. T. Garrard, of Manchester, and John D. White, of Louisville, and others being defendants, for 38,000 acres of land in Clay county under a similar claim; W. H. Baldwin, of Cincinnati, vs. W. A. Stagg, & Co., of Rowan county, for a large tract of land in that county; Robt. Campbell, of Pennsylvania, vs. Jas. Marrs, of Kentucky, and W. H. Nickles, of Virginia, for 125 tracts of land in Letcher county; Walker, Peters & Co., of West Virginia, vs. Yellow Poplar Lumber Company, of Illinois and Ohio, in regard to a contract for timber in Kentucky; Charles L. Lee, administrator of John Wiley, vs. Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, for $25,000 damages for the death of Wiley, who was crossing the railroad track in Carter county, and I. S. Burdett, of Lincoln county, vs. Western Union Telegraph Company, for large damages for the failure of the telegraph company to deliver promptly a telegram sent by plaintiff for a doctor at Crab Orchard to attend his sick wife, whose death was attributed to the negligence of the company. The last case was transferred from the Lincoln Circuit Court on motion of the telegraph company. There will probably be a half dozen cases or more to be added to the civil docket which as usual will be transferred from the State courts.

$100 Reward, $103.

The readers of the ROUNDABOUT will be pleased to learn that there is at least one druggist in this city who has been able to cure all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full testimonials.

A Herald of the Infant Year.

Clip the last thirty days or more from the century, and the second will reveal the term of the unbounded popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The opening of the year 1893 will be signalled by the appearance of a fresh Almanac of the Bitters, in which the uses, derivation and action of this world-famous medicine will be fully set forth. Everybody should read it. The real value and astronomical calculations to be found in this brochure are always astonishingly accurate, and the statistics of its sales and other results make it rich in interest and full of profit. The Hostetter Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., publish it themselves. They employ more than sixty hands in the mechanical work, and more than 40,000,000 in the year are consumed in its preparation. It can be obtained at all druggists and country dealers, and is printed in English, German, French, Welsh, Norwegian, Swedish, Russian, Italian, and Spanish.

AN AWFUL ACCIDENT.

A Can of Powder Explodes and Injures Two Persons, One of Whom Will Probably Die.

Monday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock the city was startled by a loud explosion that made the windows rattle as if an earthquake had shaken the buildings. The direction of the report led to the end of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Bridge at Belle point, where Mr. Tom Pence had a tool-house or work shed adjoining his mill, and within a few minutes a large crowd of anxious inquirers were on the spot. The scattered fragments of the shed, part of which was blown a great distance, and the groans of a man and a youth, who were evidently suffering great pain, were sufficient testimony to show the nature of the accident. It was developed that a can of blasting powder, uncovered and a little more than half full, was in the shed near where Joe Downey and Howard Masters were at work sharpening a saw, and it was supposed that a spark from the saw fell into the can.

Downey and Masters were badly burned and bruised about the head and body, and while the former sustained severe injuries he will probably recover, but the latter in addition to the injuries mentioned, had his right leg broken and the sight of his right eye destroyed, and it is believed he can not recover. Masters is about 17 years of age and a son of Mrs. Drucilla Masters, on the Upper Creek Road, about a mile from the city. Downey is about twenty-five years of age and has a wife and three children at his home on the South Side. The attending physicians and kind neighbors and friends have been unremitting in their attentions and efforts to alleviate the suffering of the victims.

When you have over-exerted yourself by running, jumping or working, there is nothing that will relieve the soreness of your joints and muscles so quickly and effectually as Salvation Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain. 25 cents.

LOCAL.

BROKEN ANKLE.—Mrs. Kate Felthouse accidentally fell at her home on Hill street and broke her ankle.

POSTAL CLERK.—C. O. Bryson, of Nicholas county, has been made the Postal Clerk between Paris and Frankfort.

COLLAR BONE FRACTURED.—M.

Mary Armstrong fell at the Kenyon Hotel Wednesday and fractured her collar bone.

THOROUGHBREDS.—Mr. Leslie Colline on Saturday purchased of Mr. Sanders Bruce nine young thoroughbreds, at a cost of $1,200.

FELL DOWN THE STEPS.—Judge Thomas H. Hines accidentally fell down the stairway leading to his office in the Yeoman Building Tuesday and sustained a number of severe bruises about his face.

REMOVED TO THE CITY.—County Clerk Smith has removed from his home on the Flat Creek pike to his home on Steele street on the South Side. He will probably reside in the city in the future.

CHRISTMAS TREE.—The children of the Methodist Church were given a beautiful Christmas tree last night, which was loaded with presents, and Old Santa Claus forgot none of the children, every one receiving something.

OIL EXPLOSION.—Early yesterday morning the parlor lamp suspended from the ceiling exploded at Mrs. Nesbitt's on Main street, and the flames, but for the timely assistance of firemen Fred Gordon and James Smith, would have taken hold of the ceiling.

SCREWY FOR LOCK NO. 7.—Capt. I. V. Hoag, in charge of the Kentucky river improvements to navigation, on Tuesday went to a point about ten miles above Shaker Ferry, to make surveys for locks and dam No. 7, on which work will be vigorously pushed at the earliest possible time next season.

INJURED.—Mrs. D. S. Hughes, of the Farmdale neighborhood, while standing with a lamp in her hand on a chair Friday evening of last week, fell backwards over the chair and sustained injuries from which, for awhile, it was thought she would not recover. Happily the fears have not been realized and now it is reported that the injured lady is very much improved.

A TOKEN OF ESTEEM.—Judge W. H. Holt, on the adjournment of the Court of Appeals Saturday, and his retirement from the bench to be succeeded Monday week by Judge J. H. Hazelrigg, was surprised by the court officials, who, through Mr. Ed. W. Hines, Court Reporter, made a presentation to him of an elegant ink stand, cut glass bottle and holders and mountings to correspond.

REGULAR.—Early Sunday morning some one attempted to effect an entrance into Mr. Joseph Schweers' residence, on Arlington Heights. Mr. Schweers heard the noise in time and in the dark fired a shot in the direction of the burglar, who had taken to his heels. It did not wing him but he'll doubtless keep at a safe distance hereafter from the house of a man who can shoot as well as Mr. Schweers.

FINE BRICK.—Mr. S. C. Cryer showed us yesterday a sample of brick made from the clay taken out of the cellar of the Masonic Temple on Ann street. The brick shown was taken from the next to the top course of the kiln, was a beautiful light red color, as hard as flint, and suitable to work any where. If such clay could be obtained always for the manufacture of brick some man in this section would make a fortune in the business.

PURSUED BY A MOB.—The Mercer county sheriff brought Len Tye, colored, to this city Tuesday and placed him in jail for safe-keeping. Tye outraged Miss Bryant, a white woman of Williamsburg, in Whitley county, and a mob was about ready to swing him to a tree and his gaoler hurried him to Stanford. The mob being in close pursuit caused the prisoner's further removal to Harrodsburg, and thence for greater security to this city.

UNFORTUNATE.—It has been said that misfortunes and accidents come in series and not singly. This has doubtless been early impressed upon the mind of Mr. John W. Payne, of the South Side, who is not only bedfast himself with painful lingering illness, but now has the same little daughter, Lydia, ill of scarlet fever, who a few months ago was suddenly seized in the night with violent pains in the foot, which afterwards became swollen and appeared to have been bitten by some venomous insect and from which she has not yet fully recovered. To prevent the spread of scarlet fever in the school, Miss Georgia Payne, who is a teacher, concluded to remain at home until her little sister is restored to health.

ELECTED.—Mr. George C. Watson, formerly of this city, was elected as the Republican candidate a member of the Michigan Legislature at the election held on the 8th of last month, by a majority of 32, in a strong Democratic district. At the last previous election the Democratic candidate carried the district by a majority of 207, and Mr. Watson is the first Republican who has been elected to represent it in years. His nomination was unsought by him and was unanimously made by the convention. When he started into the canvass he was not known except in two townships out of the twelve composing his district, but he made a number of speeches and did lots of hustling and got there, just as all Frankfort boys do when away from home, and splendid material is wanted for leaders.

The laws of health are taught in the schools, but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases might easily be done. If some scholar who has just contracted a cold was brought before the school so that all could hear the dry, loud cough and know its significance; see the thin white coating on the tongue, and later, as the cold developed, see the profuse watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of cold were. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely, that all might see that even a severe cold could be cured in one or two days, or at least greatly mitigated when properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear. This remedy is famous for its cures of coughs, colds and croup. It is made especially for these diseases and is the most prompt and most reliable medicine known for their removal. 50 and 100 cent bottles for sale by J. W. Gayle, druggist.

The Fairies' Well.

Geo. H. Timmons, a Louisville boy, who began his theatrical career about thirteen years ago with Jack Haverly's Juvenile Pinafore Company, made his professional debut to a Louisville audience last Monday night in "The Fairies' Well." Although he has been steadily at work since leaving the "Juveniles," he was never before seen on the Louisville stage. To those of his friends who knew him as an amateur dancer and singer, his performance was in the nature of a most pleasant surprise. "The Fairies' Well," as given by him and his company, was above the average. Timmons has a cultivated and sympathetic tenor voice, and his love-making as Larry Dee, the romantic young hero, was all that could be desired. He sang during the performance several songs of his own composition, accompanying himself beautifully on the Italian Harp.—Ex.

Mrs. F. C. Cone, at Paris, left this letter: "My husband Forgive me if I cause you trouble, but I suffer so. You do not know what these long, wakeful, wretched nights are to me and I am so tired, darling—the pain will never be tired. It is not easy to take my own life, but I have been sick so long.
